

REMARKS

The amendments are directed to formalities and do not introduce new matter. There is an amendment to the specification to introduce sequence identifiers; and there is an amendment to introduce a sequence listing, all supported by the application as filed.

The sequences in the sequence listing find support in the specification. The paper and computer-readable forms are the same and do not introduce new matter.

The Examiner is invited to contact the undersigned at the telephone number listed below if there are any questions with respect to this submission.

Dated: June 23, 2008

Respectfully submitted,

By
